Increase snowmobiling fun with these cool tips

(Submitted by the Michigan Department of State)

A safe snowmobile-riding season depends on proper training and abiding by state safety rules and regulations.

Safe snowmobiling includes the following:

- Don't ride alone.
- Keep headlights and tail lights on at all times.
- Keep your snowmobile well maintained.
- Wear appropriate clothing for the weather — always include a helmet, gloves, and eye protection.
- Always check the weather and leave a travel plan.
- Avoid crossing frozen bodies of water when possible and never cross single file
- Be aware of fences, low-strung wire or depressions in the snow
- Do not ride on a street or highway
- Be cautious at intersections, stop and look carefully for traffic before proceeding.

A snowmobile safety course is an excellent idea for all operators. Children ages 12 to 16 may operate a snowmobile if they have a valid snowmobile safety certificate with them or are under the direct supervision of an adult age 21 or older. Only those with a valid snowmobile certificate may legally drive across a street or highway.

Children younger than 12 must be under the direct supervision of an adult unless they are operating a snowmobile on property owned or controlled by a parent or legal guardian. They are not allowed to cross a highway or street.

Snowmobiles are registered by the Department of State. Operators must have the registration certificate with them when riding. The registration is the ownership document; snowmobiles are not titled. Registrations are issued for three years and should be renewed before September 30 of the year shown on the registration decal.

A snowmobile trail permit sticker is also required under Michigan law, with a few exceptions, such as when riding solely on private property.

Snowmobile operators are reminded to never operate a snowmobile under the influence of drugs or alcohol or at speeds that are unreasonable for conditions. Residents whose driver's license has been suspended or revoked may not legally operate a snowmobile.

For more information about snowmobile safety training, regulations and trail permits, visit the DNRE website at www.michigan.gov/dnre.
