Homeschool Graduates...

Kathryn Arnouts

I'm eighteen years old, and I like books, music, movies, theatre, and art. I plan on going to Northpoint Bible College for a year for basic classes, but I don't know what I want to do for a major or a career. Hopefully, I can find a career that leans more toward the arts than it does anything else. I'm just going to play it by ear and trust that God has a plan.

Caitlin Bair

I've been home-schooled for the past seven years. These years have grown me and given me some of my favorite memories yet. I've been able to discover my affinity for coffee, old music, running, and brunch. While I'm sad to close this chapter, I'm looking forward to the future. F. Scott Fitzgerald once said, "Our lives are defined by opportunities, even the ones we miss." My goal is to use future opportunities for God's glory.

Christopher Denison

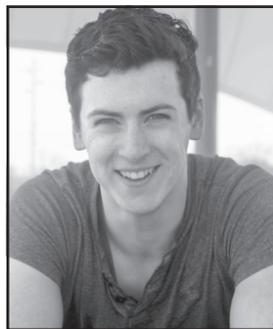

I am from Grand Haven, Michigan. After I graduate I plan to attend MCC and take courses in CAD as well as CNC. I can often be found playing disc golf or running in the dunes with friends and family. One of my favorite quotes is: "Have you ever tried deep-fried butter?" by Raymond Reddington.

Jakob Doctor

I have been home-schooled my whole life. I enjoy basketball, football, spending time at the beach, and playing video games. I am unsure of my future plans, but I am excited to see where God leads me.

Ethan Gongalski

I've been home-schooled since 10th grade and love to keep busy. I can't wait to see what life has for me and the challenges that will come with it. My hobbies include working out, cooking, and just chilling with friends. I love cars and own a 2005 Mustang. Tennis is my favorite sport, and I try to spend any spare time with friends and family.

Jacob Goossen

I have been home-schooled most of my life and have enjoyed all of it, except Mrs. Coggin's homework. Some of my interests are hunting, competitive pistol shooting, and playing pool. After graduation, I plan to continue my job at JR Automation and hopefully to become an apprentice there.

Martin Infante

I'm looking forward to being a productive citizen of these United States by continuing to work in the construction business.

Caleb Jackson

I believe the Lord is directing me to go to Baker College for two years to get my certification as a PTA (Physical Therapist Assistant). I've played basketball since elementary. It's really sad to not be able to play organized basketball again, but I believe God has great things planned for me! I enjoy playing basketball, working out, performing with theatre, and eating waffles.

Diane Reminder

I have been home-schooled for six years. Throughout those years I have developed a fondness for music, nature, raising chickens, and loving on babies. Because of these passions, I plan on pursuing a degree in the environmental sciences at a four-year university.

Although I don't know exactly where I'm headed, I hope to explore as much of the world as I can!

Essie Rustin

I've been home-schooled my whole life, and I do not have any immediate plans for college. I would have to say my proudest academic achievement would be the one time I didn't know an answer on my Biology test, so I made up some sciencey words, and it was the right answer. I'd like to thank my family for being fabulous, teaching me stuff, etc. :-)

Riley Van Andel

I love art, movies, reading, and hanging out with family and friends. I desire to follow God's plan for my life. I am not sure what my future holds, but I am looking forward to the journey ahead!

Micah Wierengo

After twelve years of home-schooling, I am planning on going to college for two to six years for welding and automotive. I love driving my car when it's not broken. I like playing basketball and hanging out with my friends and family. One verse that inspires me is Romans 1:16.
